Brief description of the problem

AstraZeneca is recalling batch NG327 as the level of olaparib polymorphic form L exceeds the registered specification limit. As a precautionary measure, the other batches listed are also being recalled as they may exceed the limit before the end of their shelf life.

Advice for healthcare professionals

- Stop dispensing the batches listed above.
- Return all remaining stock of these batches to your supplier using the supplier's approved process.

Wholesalers

- Quarantine any remaining stock of these batches and return to the original supplier for credit.
